

PRESS RELEASE

Wessex Round Table of Inventors

EMBARGOED UNTIL 18 October 2006

INVENTORS' CLUB SPONSORED BY HAMPSHIRE ENTERPRISE GATEWAY

SEEDA SUPPORT FOR INNOVATORS, ENTREPRENEURS AND SMEs

THE WESSEX Round Table of Inventors (WRTI) is delighted to announce that Hampshire Enterprise Gateway is sponsoring the WRTI stand on which three club members are exhibiting their products at this week's British Invention Show at Alexandra Palace. www.hantsenterprisegateway.co.uk www.britishinventionshow.com

WRTI Chairman Richard Little's Whitchurch-based company Jenton International won a communications award at the Innovention 2006 trade show with its unique AirSense™ technology, which has already been licensed in the USA. This RFID sensor technology – essentially a new PDA or 'pocket PC' sensing system – requires no external power supply, but is instead powered entirely by the wireless signals generated by (external) interrogating equipment. www.jenton.co.uk

Joe Silver is exhibiting his award-winning LifeLock® device which, when fitted to any door from inside a room, gives immediate protection from anyone trying to enter surreptitiously. The portable, pocket-sized security device can be fitted or released in seconds, requires no keys or codes to operate, and is recommended by The Lucie Blackman Trust. www.lifelock.co.uk www.lucieblackmantrust.org

Frank Landamore is exhibiting his Grass Snake™ Cable Grip™, a safe and simple hands-free cable tidy for use with electric lawn mowers, strimmers, hedgetrimmers etc. When clipped onto a machine's power cable and attached to users' gardening slacks, it keeps electric cables away from cutting blades and entanglements, leaving both hands free to operate the equipment safely and conveniently. www.GrassSnake.co.uk

The Wessex Round Table of Inventors is based at Southampton Solent University and includes engineers, scientists, entrepreneurs and academics among its membership. The WRTI website receives thousands of visits every month, and its 'Inventors Links' page comprises the most comprehensive source of information on the web for inventors, entrepreneurial innovators and SMEs. Inventique, the WRTI's free newsletter, is e-mailed to thousands of subscribers at home and abroad. www.solent.ac.uk www.wrti.org.uk
